

The Navy Clearance Diver Trust invites you to breakfast with:

Damian Mander

Clearance diver, mercenary, and wild life warrior!

Damian Mander is a former Royal Australian Navy Clearance Diver and special operations military sniper turned anti-poaching crusader.

Wildlife crime is sweeping the planet. The illegal trafficking of wildlife is now one of the world's largest criminal industries, with repeated links to terrorism networks.

High target species such as elephant and rhino are being hunted to extinction. These animals are the most difficult to protect, as poachers go to the most extreme lengths to kill them.

An environmental and animal welfare activist, Mander is outspoken about the priorities of mankind in an increasingly challenged society. He frequently advocates the use of military equipment and tactics for the purpose of protecting animals, including the use of Unmanned Aerial Vehicles.

Mander used his life savings earned during service in Iraq, and liquidated his investments and assets to fund the start-up and running costs of the International Anti-Poaching Foundation – an organisation dedicated to the protection and preservation of wildlife in some of the world's most volatile regions.

Mander's personal evolution has seen him recognise the need for protection of all animals, not just from an ethical standpoint, but also from a global environmental perspective. A public speaker, Mander is a vegan who actively encourages his audience to hold back the tide of human encroachment and correct the imbalance between dwindling wilderness areas and rapidly increasing human populations.
